Old & New mode integration Poll:

AHOY MATEYS!

We are looking at community feedback to reintegrate the old game modes fleet and ctb (this time with 3v3 support) back into the game.

If those other modes are reimplemented, the current conquest mode will have more focus on fort attack, possibly turning it into a rush style game mode like Battlefield. One side will be the attackers while the other will be defenders. We'll also have new and randomised fort layouts.

The current dilemma is that right now with our small tight-knit community we are deciding whether or not each round should force play a different mode. This will provide a bit more variety and feeling of content rather than playing the same mode over and over.

We understand some players prefer to play the same mode and may leave if another mode they aren't too fond of pops on. Given the handful of servers, the ability to choose the mode gives a few problems.

The first being that we may not get to balance out specific modes because they are not played enough.

The second is the reoccurring case when we implemented the other 2 modes last year. People never got to experience the other modes and assumed the game was only TDM.

Please voice your opinion at the poll vote below:

<http://www.strawpoll.me/15444458>. 3.83 March Patch Notes + Hotfix:

Ahoy lads, a new patch will be pushed today. It will contain some balance changes to bring the side arms in line and some needed bug fixes.

EDIT:

March 28th HOTFIX. Patch 2.22 - Leveling Adjustment:

As mentioned in our last update: <http://steamcommunity.com/games/Blackwake/announcements/detail/1341359957166971937>
Patch 2.3 is all about updates for progression. This means ranks, accolades, and just overall more recognition for sailing the seas as a crew.

In our last update 2.21, we had to introduce the new leveling system early to make future patches easier on us. But with this update came an xp curve change that we quickly realized was too harsh, and have since adjusted it.

The level to prestige is now 50, and all unlocks have been adjusted accordingly.

Remember, no total xp was actually lost in these updates, we have only changed how it is interpreted.

We have also introduced an elite badge that is the final prestige where your level will no longer cap at 50.

We've also added an alert to display what you have just unlocked while ingame:

. 3.08:

Ahoy Mateys!

Going forward with updates we'd love to know what type of ships you'd want to have in the game. We already have a few planned but would like to see whatever interesting ideas people have.

There are some guidelines on your suggestions.

1. Must fit into either the 7 player or 13 player class of ships. Meaning the amount of activities to do on deck, cannon loading, repairing should suit the player count. There shouldn't be many people standing around doing nothing. 10 Guns a side is currently quite a handful for a 13 Player class with the current Cruiser in-game.
2. Ship suggestions must fit into a specific role. Take into account the amount of guns, how they are fitted on the ship, and what purpose it serves in the game.

They must have strong points and/or weak points. Although given a situation effective during certain encounters. Even strong at multiple but weaker at others.

Eg.

Long range gunning
Ramming
Boarding
Mobility
Agility
Chasing
Fleeing etc.

Feel free to provide a reference of the ship, with either a name (if preexisting) or a mockup of perhaps the deck layout. MSPaint can work fine!

3. Ship designs do not have to be accurate to the era or historically accurate/location of piracy. So Galleys, Barbary Pirate ships like Xebecs are fine.

I will note that we have these ships already in progress:

Bomb Ketch 13P
Bomb Ketch 7P
13P Brig
7P Cutter
